Free Transition Information Night for Families of Tri-Valley Young Adults with Developmental Disabilities
Program Focused on Bridging the Gap between High School and Adulthood

PLEASANTON, Calif. — The City of Pleasanton will co-sponsor a free Transition Information Night for families of Tri-Valley young adults with developmental disabilities. The event is scheduled on Tuesday, January 23, 2018 from 5:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the Pleasanton Senior Center, 5353 Sunol Boulevard. Admission is free and a light dinner is included.

This event is a collaboration effort of R.E.A.C.H, Pleasanton Unified School District WorkAbility Program, the City of Pleasanton Community Services Department and the Alameda County Developmental Disabilities Council.

Don't miss these special 45-minute presentations. Offered at 6 p.m. and at 7:30 p.m.

Session A; "Transition Planning," presented by Kim Limato, Regional Center of the East Bay and "Housing" presented by Kay King, R.E.A.C.H. Session B "SSI and Benefit Planning" and "Competitive Integrated Employment," presented by Rose Dowd, Regional Center of the East Bay.

The event will also feature information tables and representatives from agencies which provide post high school services such as independent and supported living services, social/recreation programs, adult day programs, transportation/paratransit, self-advocacy support and information on conservatorship, special needs trusts and benefits counseling.
